INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 1.—The possession of the account books of the International Structural Bridgeworkers' Union and other evidence in the McManara case has been granted by the Federal grand jury.

WOULD-BE COLLEGE MEN WORKING WAY AROUND WORLD; STOP HERE

Starting in with the determination working their way down on the Willamette, two young men arrived yesterday on the Willamette on the first lap of a globe-grinding tour, and like the islands on which they may make their home here, the two men are Luke Marmaduke Rader and Norman B. Courtenay, of Portland, Ore., and they have set their eyes on Princeton university as the goal of their ambitions. Wide-awake, energetic young fellows, they intended to circle the world and make enough money to put them through their first year in college.

Rader is a famous football player one of the best the "new" game has produced in the Northwest. He comes from a family of football stars. Last year he was All-Northwest fullback, attending Willamette university, Ore. Courtenay is a talented violinist. They began their globe-trotting by

HALLOWE'EN STUNT NEARLY DISASTROUS

Believing themselves protected by the freakish traditions that surround Halloween, a party of prominent young women masquerading in masculine attire made the night hideous for a number of their friends and barely escaped a tragic end to the adventure that would have resulted in the disclosure of their identities, if nothing worse.

Armed with musical instruments of various sorts, the gay party ventured forth soon after midnight and by 3 o'clock had completed a tour of their friends' homes, leaving consternation in their wake. Although the costumes were misleading, their voices when raised in song were in several instances thought familiar, and as may

UNION MEN LOSE TO NON-UNION

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
HILLO, Oct. 1.—The interesting spectacle of Japanese being employed by the Hilo Labor Union to break a strike of its own members, was to be witnessed on Monday in this city as the result of trouble between certain of the union laborers and their foreman, who had asked Clarke for money and he had told them that they would have to wait till later in the day. This had not pleased their idea of doing business.

On Monday morning over a dozen of the union men failed to appear for work, being on strike in behalf of their comrade who had been arrested. Foreman Clarke promptly employed Japanese non-union labor to fill the vacancies, as under the contract the union must furnish a certain number of men each day and accomplish a certain amount of work. Clarke owns considerable real estate in this city, and for this reason was accepted as the bondsman and is considered as a responsible man for this sort of work.

FIGHT ON MOSQUITO STARTS WITH CITIZENS' COMMITTEE IN CHARGE; UNCLE SAM HELPS

Organization of a business system of handling the campaign against the mosquito, stirred by the discovery of a yellow fever case, is practically complete this afternoon and will be well worked out by tomorrow morning.

Following a joint meeting of the commercial bodies yesterday afternoon, a special committee of seven was named to head the work, under the direction of the Board of Health. This committee consists of W. F. Dillingham, chairman, J. R. Galt, L. Tenney Peck, Senator A. F. Judd, Maj. J. M. Kennedy, U. S. A., Dr. Tucker Smith, U. S. N., and Frank E. Thompson.

From 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the committee held almost continuous session until a late hour last night. Sub-committees were named and a plan of action outlined. That plan is being carried into effect today.

Walter F. Dillingham has general charge of the work of organization. J. R. Galt is secretary and handles the secretarial work in addition to active general committee work. Senator Judd was given the part of seeing that the sanitary survey, now three-fourths done, is rushed to completion. Eight out of nine sections are complete, the ninth section being that of Kailua, where the single case of yellow fever has been discovered. It is hoped to complete this by Sunday night.

L. Tenney Peck was named in charge of accounts and handling the details of financial arrangements. He will devise a system of bookkeeping to meet the emergency. F. E. Thompson is in charge of supplies.

Maj. Kennedy and Dr. Smith are in charge of the department of military cooperation, with the advice and assistance of Brig. Gen. Macomb and Admiral Cowles.

Forty picked men will be asked for from the Federal forces, the regulars and the Marine Corps. These men, non-commissioned officers, will, it is expected, be deputized by the Board of Health and handle the mosquito squads of laborers.

This morning the organization worked without cessation. Putting aside private business, the men on the committee spent their time in setting in motion the machinery to drive the mosquito out of Honolulu.

CITY HEALTH DEPT. IS READY AT ANY TIME

"The health department of the city and county stands ready to help along the present campaign, but so far it has not been necessary to take an active part. It is up to the citizens' commission and the Board of Health," said City Physician Wayson today.

"Dr. Pratt knows that we are ready at any time. Our inspectors are not with the Territorial board, and both Dr. Moore and myself are agents of the Territorial board as well as city physicians, and will respond to the call as soon as Dr. Pratt wants us."

"I have been instructed by the health committee to work in harmony with the Territorial Board of Health, and you will find the city and county health department Johnnie-on-the-spot, night or day, just as soon as Dr. Pratt needs our services."

While crossing railroad tracks in Dorchester, Mabel Dyer, a 14-year-old girl, was struck and instantly killed by a train.

If you have a want large enough to think about, why not let a Bulletin Want Ad solve the problem?

MASS MEETING CALLED.

A call was issued this afternoon on behalf of the citizens' committee for a mass meeting tomorrow evening at the new Y. M. C. A. hall at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Daughters of Hawaii, the College Club, the Woman's League, the Ladies' Guild, the alumni of Kamehameha, St. Louis College and Oahu College, and the various improvement clubs. Yellow fever and how to fight it will be the subjects discussed. Everybody is invited, the women of Honolulu particularly.

SERVICE AND CITIZENS CO-OPERATE

The cooperation of the army in the mosquito warfare was asked this morning when a committee of two, representing the citizens' organization, called on General Macomb with a request for expert map men to assist in plotting the city into districts, and for non-commissioned officers to take charge of mosquito exterminating squads.

Later in the day it was found, however, that the maps in possession of the army engineers were available and would answer the purpose when the location of certain cesspools and ponds was noted on them. Major Wooten, head of the army engineers here, worked with A. F. Judd and Prof. A. R. Keller all morning, and after a second conference with General Macomb just before noon, it was decided that for the present the assistance of the army men and non-coms would not be necessary.

"In the event of our detaching any non-commissioned officers to take charge of the clean-up work," said Major Campbell, adjutant-general, "I can't guarantee any half measures, though, take it that they would receive some sort of warrant from the Board of Health, and would act as deputies of that body and not as soldiers. From what General Macomb has said, I am sure that in any emergency he will see that the troops do their share. Certainly the army will do its part toward exterminating the fever-carrying mosquito."

Admiral Cowles, General Macomb, Major Kennedy and Dr. Smith have organized themselves into an informal service committee to consider the federal situation and decide on what official action, if any, is necessary.

With the heads of the army and navy and the chief medical adviser of each at the head of affairs, it seems certain that the service will be ready to lend a helping hand when necessary.

"Dr. Smith and Major Kennedy have made no report as yet," said Admiral Cowles this morning. "My offer of the use of the marine battalion still holds good if the citizens mean business and mean to do a thorough job in their crusade against the mosquito. I can't countenance any half measures, though, and if the work is done at all it must be well done."

500 MEN WILL CLEAN THE CITY

"Any place where mosquitoes breed is a nuisance and must be abated. Such is the effect of the law that was passed by the last Legislature and is the lever that the Board of Health has to work with at the present time if it requires it."

Secretary E. A. Mott-Smith explained the situation this morning. "When the last Legislature passed the new laws for the Board of Health this was one of them," he said. "It simply amounts to this: If there is a place on any property where mosquitoes breed, then the Board of Health serve a notice on the owner and he has to abate it or else be fined for having a common nuisance on his place."

"We went also still further than this. The board has the power to pass regulations, and if it wishes it can make it a punishable offense for anyone to have on his property any place, not where mosquitoes breed, but where they can breed. Take, for instance, a man who has a tank in his yard. The inspector finds larvae there and orders the man to get rid of them. He empties the tank and kills the larvae, but he fills it up again and after a time more of them breed in it. Under such a regulation as the board has the power to

Fleet Is Fruit Fly Not On Way Plans Made

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY ON THE TRANSPORTS TO AMUSE SOLDIERS

The experiment of supplying organized entertainment for enlisted men making the monotonous and wearisome voyage across the Pacific in the army transports, is now being tried in the transport service. The Y. M. C. A. is at the head of the movement to relieve Uncle Sam's soldiers from the boredom of the trans-Pacific journey, and on the Sherman when she passed through here on her way to Manila some days ago was a Y. M. C. A. official who carried the newly-created title of transport secretary.

Some time ago President Taft tried the experiment of allowing a Y. M. C. A. secretary to accompany the battleship Nebraska on a cruise, and so well did the plan work that the President decided to make the innovation in the transport service.

The result was the appointment of B. S. Swartz, a graduate of Syracuse university and one of the Y. M. C. A. comfortable quarters, night deprive secretaries of the Brooklyn navy yard, some officer of transportation. How as the first transport secretary. Mr. Swartz, I suppose that is a contingency that will adjust itself."

CLOTHES-LINE THIEF ON WARPATH

Although no official complaint has been made to police headquarters, line was twice robbed of a complete clothes-line thieves are at work in Honolulu and several housewives have suffered the complete loss of weekly washings.

One prominent woman residing on Piikoi street is said to have twice been a victim of the night prowlers, and others residing in different parts of the city have also been losers on divers occasions.

Whether the thief is a man or a woman is a mystery, as in almost every instance a wholesale raid was made. It is strongly suspected, however, that a woman is responsible for
